

Prove 5 – Personal Project

Yonghwan Lee

My style:

I am a quiet person normally, but I speak a lot when I do something that I love such as soccer. In 16 personalities test, I got the INFP-T. Like above, you can know that I am an introvert person. And I try to do something even though I do not know about the something. I fail when I challenge something, usually, but I get the experiences and improve myself.

How to approach me:

Feel free to come and talk to me. I prefer that someone comes to me. I am a little bit shy, so it is hard to get new friends. If you need help or have something to me, I can help you anytime.

My personal values:

Consideration is most important value for me. I believe that current world can be a better than now if everyone considers to any others. For example, I have a meeting at 5p.m. with my team, and nobody comes to the meeting on time without me. My team does not consider me.

How to communicate with me:

There are two situations between being familiar and being a co-worker.
For being a friend, you just play soccer or any other activities. I love moving my body.
If you want to be a communicate as co-worker, you should say what you really need and want.

How to make decisions:

I prefer to make a decision by comparing with others.
Sometimes, I do not have a confidence whether my decision is correct or not.
However, by comparing between my decision and other's decision, I can feel better and get a confidence.

How to help me:

Like I said, I am very quiet person, so I, sometimes, cannot request help to somebody else. If you ask "do you need help?" to me, I can say my needs or helps.

What will you not tolerate in others:

I think that I am a positive person. However, I hate the rude person or saying curse.
